FOCUS AREA DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Family, domestic, and sexual violence is a major health and welfare issue. It occurs across all ages, socioeconomic and demographic groups but mainly affects women and children. Indigenous women, young women and pregnant women are particularly at risk. Women are at greater risk of family, domestic and sexual violence. One in 6 Australian women have been subjected, since the age of 15, to physical and/or sexual violence by a current or previous cohabiting partner. (ABS 2017b)

Women Empowerment and Leadership work diligently to help women in understanding their self-worth. We Educate them about equality and their rights. In order to prevent domestic violence, we educate the male members of the society and different communities to bring awareness.

With the work we do to empower women, we hope to tackle and minimize domestic violence in society.

FOCUS AREA EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world" – Nelson Mandela

Women Empowerment and Leadership understands the value of education, in the form of schools, workshops, skills training, and technology which is the only way to empower women and children in impoverished countries.

Our team travels to communities to reach out to women and educate them about educational opportunities, and employment opportunities. Our dedicated team is working tirelessly to help rural women learn a variety of workplace skills, to build the confidence in which women need in order to gain independence and pride, to help children progress in the area of education, to help women and children have the chance to choose their careers, and to help women stand up against domestic violence.

Educating women can help empower them to further progress in society. We agree with Nelson Mandela that "Education is the most powerful weapon that an individual can obtain". Alongside our vision, we aim to empower women in less fortunate situations to choose their career pathway, educating on domestic violence, stand up for their political, civil, and human rights. To obtain this we strive to encourage job and skill training, workshops, and schooling for children.

growth which one wishes to take, we aim to provide the entrepreneurship skills the use of idea creating which will allow the individual to seek their desired time. Introducing women to become an entrepreneur will further allow them use of independence for employment. We want women to be able to stand feet and work towards bettering their own lifestyle.

FOCUS AREA WOMEN MENTAL HEALTH

Common health issues that are faced by women and children are malnutrition, maternity care, breast cancer, AIDS, domestic violence, and birth control.
Women Empowerment and Leadership firmly believe that access to preventative healthcare and treatment for all health issues are crucial. Every human being should have access to healthcare facilities however many women in today's world are suffering due to the lack of these facilities.

Women Empowerment & Leadership organizes Free Breast checks, hygiene workshops and mental health assistance throughout the year.

The future of these women is compromised. These women are mothers, sisters, wives, and daughters. Being proactive and acknowledging that healthcare is a top priority is very important, if not urgent, to our organization.

We help people all around the world and make every effort to help them to overcome disastrous situations. Women Empowerment and Leadership team evacuated hundreds of Afghan families, especially women and children affected by war.
